

THE SECOND COMING SHOULD HAVE ALREADY HAPPENED!

Christianity is the greatest hoax perpetrated in human history!

By Chris Thiefe and Oleg Dei

The New Testament and the basis for Christianity is based on the premise that Jesus Christ is the Son of God who defeated death and is supposed to return back to earth in an event referred to as the second coming. His return would spark a 1,000 year kingdom here on Earth. The believers are kept in line by their religious leaders by withholding from them the correct date of Christ's return. They say it could happen anytime. Suppose the Bible through prophecy did provide the exact day of Christ's return. If the prophecy was unfulfilled, than Christianity would be easily disproved by the Bible itself. Shockingly the Bible does provide the date when Christ was supposed to return. In the Bible, Christ himself promised his apostles that he would return in their lifetime.

Jesus and his apostles made MANY prophecies concerning the Armageddon.

Christians would have you believe that Christ will come as "a thief in the night". Yet, the Bible is rather clear concerning when it would happen. Matter of fact, the Bible consistently said it would follow soon after Jesus' death. When you point out such verses to Christians they will try to weasel out of it by saying Christ was talking about his "future" apostles versus the ones he was directly speaking to. All it takes is a close examination of the pronouns used in order to see that Christ truly did believe the end times would have happened nearly 2,000 years ago. Keep in mind that the Bible and Christianity "lives and dies on the resurrection and end times". If we are to believe these verses and accept that the end time prophecies failed, then surely the whole book is invalid.

False Prophecies about the Armageddon:

Jesus' Predictions:

1) Jesus falsely prophesies DIRECTLY to the high priest (Caiphas) that he would live to see his second coming. Jesus uses the term "coming on the clouds of heaven". This clearly negates the "coming" as the resurrection but as a return to the earth on CLOUDS, not his return in human form from the dead. Matthew 26:64 & Mark 14:62.

"But I tell you: From now on you will see 'the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power' and 'coming on the clouds of heaven.'" (Matthew 26:64 NAB)

Then Jesus answered, "I am; and 'you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven.'" (Mark 14:62 NAB)

2) Jesus mistakenly tells his followers that he will return and establish his kingdom within their lifetime. Matthew 23:36 & 24:34

Amen, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation. (Matthew 23:36 NAB)

"Immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will fall from the sky, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. And then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in heaven, and all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming upon the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he will send out his angels with a trumpet blast, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of the heavens to the other. "Learn a lesson from the fig tree. When its branch becomes tender and sprouts leaves, you know that summer is near. In the same way, when you see all these things, know that he is near, at the gates. Amen, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (Matthew 24:29-35 NAB)

3) YET AGAIN, Jesus claims those standing RIGHT BEFORE HIM shall see the Armageddon. Matthew 16:28 "There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom." Don't let Christians lie to you and claim Jesus was referring to his modern day believers. The words "some standing HERE will not taste death" clearly refutes such nonsense. Obviously the people he was speaking to died, and curiously Jesus STILL isn't here to claim his kingdom.

4) Jesus falsely prophesies that the end of the world will come within his listeners' lifetimes.

Amen, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (Mark 13:30-31 NAB)

He also said to them, "Amen, I say to you, there is some standing here who will not taste death until they see that the kingdom of God has come in power." (Mark 9:1 NAB)

5) Jesus falsely predicts that some of his listeners would live to see him return and establish the kingdom of God.

"Truly I say to you, there are some standing here who will not taste death until they see the kingdom of God." (Luke 9:27 NAB)

6) Jesus implies that he will return to earth during the lifetime of John. (John 21:22)

7) Jesus says that all that he describes (his return, signs in the sun, moon, wars, stars, etc.) will occur within the lifetime of his listeners. He purposely defines their generation and NOT a future one. Considering that NONE of those signs took place during the resurrection and that he uses the term of "Heaven and earth shall pass away", Clearly Jesus is prophesizing that nearly 2,000 years ago Armageddon SHOULD have occurred. Luke 21:25-33

"There will be signs in the sun, the moon, and the stars, and on earth nations will be in dismay, perplexed by the roaring of the sea and the waves. People will die of fright in anticipation of what is coming upon the world, for the powers of the heavens will be shaken. And then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. But when these signs begin to happen, stand erect and raise your heads because your redemption is at hand." He taught them a lesson. "Consider the fig tree and all the other trees. When their buds burst open, you see for yourselves and know that summer is now near; in the same way, when you see these things happening, know that the kingdom of God is near. Amen, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (Luke 21:25-33 NAB)

[Editor's note: Matthew 10:23 also has Jesus telling his disciples that the second coming will occur before the disciples finish preaching in Israel: "When they persecute you in one town, flee to another. Amen, I say to you, you will not finish the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes." (Matthew 10:23 NAB)

John's Predictions

8) John believes "the time is at hand," and that the things that he writes about in Revelation will "shortly come to pass." Revelations 1:1-3

9) John quotes Jesus (1900 years ago) as saying he will come "quickly." Revelations 22:7, 12 & 20

10) John thinks he is living in "the last times." He "knows" this because he sees so many antichrists around. 1 John 2:18

11) John says that the antichrist was already present at the time 1 John was written. 1 John 4:3

12) John quotes Jesus (1900 years ago) as saying he will come "quickly." Revelations 3:11, 22:7, 12 & 20

Paul's Predictions

13) Paul thought that the end was near and that Jesus would return soon after he wrote these words. Philippians 4:5

14) Paul believes he is living in the "last days." Hebrews 1:2

15) Paul believed that Jesus would come "in a little while, and will not tarry." Hebrews 10:37

16) In 1 Thessalonians 4:16-17 Paul stated: "For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: And the dead Christ shall rise first: Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air: And so shall we ever be with the Lord." Paul shared the delusion, taught by Jesus, in that he expected to be snatched up bodily into heaven with other saints then living, who would, thus, never taste death. The use of "we" clearly proves as much. It is difficult to deny that Paul was certain that the end of the world was coming in the lifetime of his contemporaries.

Other Prophecies about Armageddon:

17) James thought that Jesus would return soon. James 5:8

18) Peter wrongly believed that he was living in the "last times" and that "the end of all things is at hand." 1 Peter 1:20 & 4:7

In Conclusion

The New Testament and the basis for Christianity is based on the premise that Jesus Christ is the Son of God who defeated death and is supposed to return back to earth in an event referred to as the second coming. His return would spark a 1,000 year reign on Earth. The believers are kept in line by their religious leaders by withholding from them the correct date of Christ's return. They say it could happen anytime. Suppose the Bible through prophecy did provide the exact day of Christ's return. If the prophecy was unfulfilled than Christianity would be easily disproved by the Bible itself. Shockingly the Bible does provide the date when Christ was suppose to return. In the Bible, Christ himself promised his apostles that he would return in their lifetime. The fact that he never returned as promised is clearly a dark secret of Christianity that most believers do not even know. This forces the following undisputed set of conclusions or facts:

- (1) The second coming or the return of Jesus Christ which is the most important prophecy of the Bible, has not been fulfilled.

- (2) The Bible is clearly not the word of God since the entire New Testament is rendered worthless because the second coming or most important prophecy never happened as prophesized.

(3) Christ is not the Son of God because he failed to fulfill the most important prophesy of the Bible.

(4) Christianity is nothing more than a fable or perhaps the greatest hoax in human history because the second coming never happened.

Other issues: Christians are fond of the Immaculate Conception which states that the Holy Ghost impregnated Mary. Does this mean that a woman was having sex with a ghost? Where there any witnesses that confirmed this or do we take this charade on the word of a twisted woman? Next, if Christ himself really thought that he was the son of a god while his own prophesy exposed him as a fraud, does this mean that Christ was delusional or perhaps insane? Is Christianity based on the words of a lunatic or a madman?

It is quite clear based on the evidence provided by the Bible itself, Christ was a fraud and a lunatic that sparked the greatest hoax in human history. Let us also keep in mind other religious leaders also promised to return from the dead and these were also proven to be lies. The greatest escape artist of all time – Houdini also promised to return from the dead and we all know how well that worked. When people become devoid of logical reasoning, they will literally believe in any crap or any unsubstantiated claim. That is why all religions are lies, they have no evidence, while millions of people have died in vain protecting these twisted deceptions. It is about time that all religions be exposed as evil constructs of delusional men and be exposed as lies!
